ANOTHER OUTBREAK.

About 9 o'clock this morning a crowd of 3,000 persons made an assault on a drug store belonging to Samuel Rosenfeld. "Tear down the place," they yelled. "kill Rosenfeld, he's a police spy," and other like expressions. The mob had the idea that the druggist was a policy in the policy ties through bit talkabase.

The moo had the idea that the druggst was giving the police tips through his telephone. A wagon load of police was soon on the scene and conveyed Rosenfeld and his family to the station, leaving a guard in the vicinity.

THE ANARCHIST CONSIRACY.

The police are rapidly collecting evidence against the chief conspirators among anarchists. They searched Spies' office this morning and found absolute proof of the inflaming circulars mentioned in these dispatches headed: "Revenge! Workingmen to Arms!" and on another headed "Attention, Workingmen," were found with the form in type. These were taken possession of and locked up at the central station as evidence that Spies and Schwab directly incited riot and bloodshed. Anarchist Parsons has not been captured as first reported. Ho is still hiding. Schawb was mistaken for him when the first arrests were made. Inspector Bonfield raided Zepp's hall, corner of Lake and Desplaines streets, this morning. Shortly after noon the police made another raid on the office of the "Arbeiter Zeitung," They arrested a man in the office who, upon being searched produced a large revolver and dirk. He was placed under arrest. In the office was discovered several boxes of dynamite and a number of red flags and incendiary banners. They were all seized.

The police returned to the scene and succeeded in dispersing the mob. The strikers at Deering Reaper works held a meeting on the prairie near the factory at 10 o'clock this forenoon. They demanded eight hours work, ten hours pay, double pay for overtime and twenty per cent advance for piece work,

It is learned that Schwab, one of the men now under arrest, addressed the strikers last night, urging dynamite.

The freight handlers intended making a parade to-day, but issued orders countermanding it. They also adopted resolutions condemning the anarchists and tendering their services, if needed, to preserve the public peace. It has finally been decided by the mayor to issue a proclamation. Chicago's Reign of Terror. CHICAGO, May 5 .- [Special Telegram.]-The occurrences of last night have created a tremendous sensation. Nothing else is talked of and the greatest excitement and indignation prevails. Forty-four names of the wounded fill nine full pages of the register at the county hospital. In the corridor before 6 o'clock was a group of men and women, friends most of them of the police officers, anxious to inquire after or to see them. The attendants were haggard and excited. The first patrol brought the dead body of Officer Diegan here a little after 10 o'clock. From that on until 6 o'clock this morning the ambulances and police patrol wagons were constantly arriving with wounded. The whole staff of physicians and attendants was called in and everybody was devoted to the care of the injured. A little tab is kept at the desk of the men who are in a precarious condition. Marvellous as it may seem, all of these are police officers. There are eight civilians in the wards, and not one is fatally or even seriously hurt. The entire police force of the city is on duty, and should they come in contact with the mob to-day

THEY WILL SHOW NO MERCY. Three hundred of them have been armed with Springfield rifles. August Sples is under arrest. He was captured by the police at 8 o'clock this morning. The anarchist and incendiary editor of the Arbeiter-Zeitung, who was the first one to address the meeting at Desplaines and Randolph streets, who occupied the wagon from which the dynamite bomb was thrown which did such bloody work last night, who was one of the speakers at the mob meeting on the prairie McCormick's Monday afternoon, whose words inflamed the mob-until it was ready to burn down the great factory, had the temerity to appear in the editorial rooms of his paper this morning. Here he met his brother and a man named Schwab, associate editor of the paper, who were his associates in these incendiary harangues. They met at 107 Fifth avenue to talk over the scenes of last night and were taken by detectives to the Central station and placed under lock and key. As the news spread through the city that the leaders of the nihilistic mob were safely caged, expressions of the livellest satisfaction were heard on every hand. Spies and his friends, when the police charged the mob, and could not be found until this morning, though earnest search was made for them all through the night. Just what charge will be lodged against them has not at present been determined. The Arbeiter Zeitung, the organ of the socialists, is printed in the third story of the building at 107 Fifth avenue, the lower floor of which is a beer saloon. The editorial rooms are on the second floor, and it was there that the five Central station detectives found Spies this morning. Spies is the responsible editor, and when the detectives entered he was in a room with his brother Chris, who is a furniture worker, and Michael Schawb, an associate editor of the paper. The socialists said not a word as the officers threw open the door. Detectives Bonfield and Duffy entered first. "Are you August Spies?" Bonfield inquired, directing his look at the anarchist. Spies' thin lips

PARTED IN A SICKLY SMILE, he displayed two rows of shinteeth. He hesitated a moment before speaking and with the artful tact of a malevolent disposition gave the officer the full benefit of his tantalizing smile. At length his lips moved and in a weak and husky voice, in alarming contrast to his smile of simulated indifference, he made answer: "Yes, I am August Spies."

"Well," replied Bonfield "we want you, and you too," said the officer turning to Spies' brother and Editor Schwab, the latter was deathly white and his hands frembled as he put on his hat. Chris Spies was inclined to be ugly, while the prisoners were being searched. They east their eyes to the floor and seemed the very

PICTURES OF ARRANT COWARDICE. The officers were too indignant to speak and while the men's clothing was being overhauled simply glared at them as if it would be a pleasure to annihilate them on the spot. Orders were issued to allow no one to speak to the prisoners.

THE BOMB THROWER CAGED. The man who threw the bomb at last night's riot was arrested to-day and is now locked up at the Central station. His name is Julius Carpenter, The police claim to have ample proof that he is the man, and Lieutepant Kipley says that the public need have no fear of evil from bombs. The twenty-five printers who were arrested at the Arbeiter Zeitung building were brougat before Justice Leech and held on the charge of murder till May 14. Carpenter is said to be one of their number. Carpenter is said to be one of their number. The fellow stood in front of John Burnett, a candy maker in the employ of Mr. Barry, at the corner of Washington and Sangamon streets, and was seen by him to throw the missile of death. According to Furnett he was seen to abstract the bomb from his pocket and light it just as the police drew near. Burnett said he stood within two feet of the man, and would certainly be able to identify him should he meet him again. Hardly a moment clapsed after the bomb was lighted until the man elevated his arm preparatory to casting it from him. Every detail of this performance was witnessed by Burnett, who did not know what to make of the stranger's action. Presently the fuse attached to the homb commenced to hiss. Then for the first time Burnett began to realize what was about to happen. The man with a quick jerk of his arm

The entire district in the lumber region. from Twenty-second street to Western avenue, was conspicuously free from crowds of agitators, socialists and strikers. This is doubtless wholly owing to the fact that the police are to-day armed with rifles, and have strict orders to compel all loungers and idlers to "move on." At Eighteenth street and Center avenue, the headquarters of the anarchists in that neighborhood, a small crowd gathered early and seemed somewhat agitated over the reports of last night's dyna mite explosion and the riot which followed but no demonstration was made.

Rudolph Steinberg, a McCormick machinist, unmarried, and aged 30 years, whose home is at 503 Blue Island avenue, was attacked by the mob at Eighteenth street and Center avenue last night and beaten into insensibility. He is now at the county hospital. At about 6:80 o'clock this morning the Me-Cormick employes began streaming into the factory, about the same number that went in yesterday--probably 700 or 800. There were ome crowds of strikers on the back streets watching them, but there was no interference except by a small mob on Oakley street, west of Blue Island avenue, which pelted several McCormick men with stones until dispersed by the police.

NO ONE WAS HURT. Lieutenant Sheppard, with thirty-five offi-cers, will to-day patrol Blue Island avenue from Leavett street to Western avenue, and permit no crowds to congregate. Besides this protection, Mr. McCormick has in his service twenty-three armed private watch-

Business firms, manufacturers and lumber-men in the district said their fears of incendiary fires were greater to-day than ever, ow ing to last night's desperate work by the dynamiters. They say the hope that the few Poles and Bohemians owning their own homes in that section would save the rest was useless, because such owners were hopelessly in the minority. It is furthermore believed that they are much men willing to lieved that there are enough men willing to go to work to start up to its full capacity every factory and workshop in the district, were it not that they are deterred from doing so by fears of violence at the hands of the so-cialists,

At Nineteenth and Fisk streets, in the Bohemian socialistic section, an ugly tempered mob this morning tore down and wreaked their vengeance on a police patrol box. No box is now left in that district. The rioters are in very bad temper since last night's work, and they are displaying it freely. This morning

A MOB COMPLETED THE WRECK Of Rosenfeld's drug store, at Eighteenth street and Centre avenue, the windows being street and Centre avenue, the windows being smashed and the goods thrown into the street. It was over this store that the socialists had their secret meetings. Rosenfeld, badly scared, gathered up all his valuable personal effects, and with his family fled to the north side for safety. His drug store is now a complete wreck. Rosenfeld is strongly antagonistic to the socialists, and has no sympathy with their incendiary doctrines.

"There were nineteen of my company of twenty five shot," said Lieutenant Bowler, the six-foot two officer who headed the squad into which the bomb was thrown. He was sitting surrounded by the uninjured survivors of his little band at the Desplaines street station. "I never heard dynamite explode

There was one company ahead of mine and four behind us. We had just come to a halt, ready for the next order which would have been a flank movement. The bomb came from close to the speaker's wagon. I saw and heard it coming, but it exploded too quick for anybody to have done anything with it or get out of the way. I was knocked down by the explosion, but not wounded. It was a terrible time, I can tell you. They had everything cut and dried."

LEADERS HELD FOR MURDER.

LEADERS HELD FOR MURDER. At 8:45 p. m. the coroner's jury returned a verdict holding Spies, Fielding, and their pals to the grand jury without ball. When the finding was read in the city clerk's office the inding was read in the city clerk's office it was loudly applauded by the anxious spectators. The prisoners had been returned to the cells in the pasement. They will be taken to the county jail to-night. Some sensational evidence was given at the inquest. "I made search of the Arbeiter Zeitung office," Officer Martin Marks testified. "On a shelf in the recess of Spies' private room I found a bundle marked Adams Express com-pany. This bag contained a lot of saw dust, sand and nitro-glycerine. It looked exactly the same as what we found on Desplaines street after the bomb exploded last night, only it was not so hard." The witness described the effect of the explosion upon some rocks un-derneath which it was placed. Fragments of the boulders were carried away an immense distance. A SECRET PLOT among the Bolicinian anarchists in the south western section of the city to start incendiary fires in the lumber district to-night was re-vealed to the police by a man in the employ of the detectives late this afternoon. The plot includes preparations to cut the hose of the are department and disable the machinery when they respond to alarms. The prepara-tions of the police are ample to cope with the incendiaries. An extra fire tur will be sent up the river and the district will be carefully patrolled. The police at the Hinman stree station are on the alert, and any attempt of the part of the incendiaries will meet with summary dealing.

Affairs in Detail.

CHICAGO, May 5 .- The excitement of the general populace is very intense, growing out the massaere planned and carried out by a small band of anarchists and their blind followers last night. The city is outwardly very quiet. In the street cars and at every point of gathering in the city the events of last night are being seriously discussed. The large and conservative element in the population, it is proper to say, has never seriously contemplated that an outbreak of such the police came from the same direction, and it is surmised that the criminals obtained their guns and made the socialist hall the rendezvous, and from whence they proceeded to make their assault. They were conceated behind boxes and barrels on the sidewalk, leveling their guns and firing during the confusion following the explosion of the bomb. Parsons was seen in the place accompanied by his negro wife for only a moment and then disappeared with other anarchists. The police searched for the three men all night, but did not succeed in finding them. A little after 8 o'clock this morning all three were found in a close room in the office of the Arbeiter-Zeitung newspaper, at 107 Fifth avenue. They were in consultation when the officers came upon them. They exhibited alarm, but made no resistance. They were taken quietly to the central police station a block away, and up to 9 o'clock the public had not been made aware of their arrest. They are kept closely guarded and no one is permitted to see them. It is not known what, if any, charges have been made against them, and what is the exact policy the city authorities intend to pursue. They have in evidence against Spies his guarded but inflammatory utterances in his newspaper, in which he has within the past few days urged dynamite warfare against few days urged dynamite warfare against the police and all regularly constituted authorities. His direct connection and that of his companions in the events of the past few days appears very clear. POLICE RAIDS.

Inspector Bonfield raided 54 West Lake street about 1 o'clock. This is the notorious resort for socialists. One of the rooms was occupied by the freight handlers. The police cleared the place.

THE INJURED POLICE.

Fourty-four mounted officers and men are at the county hospital. Officer Diegan is the only one dead among the injured officers. The announcement of the death of Officers Barrett and Hansen were wrongly reported. At two o'clock Officer Barrett was reported dying and there appears to be little hope of saving the lives of Officers Miller and Jacob Hrnsen, Nelson Hansen and Redden. The remaining twenty-four officers in the county hospital wards ail have a show of recovery, but some are extremely low. THE INJURED POLICE.

Impaneling a Coroner's Jury. CHICAGO, May 5 .- Another outbreak at the corner of Eighteenth street and Centre avenue occurred about 5 p. m. Crowds lined the sidewalks for several blocks, but were being kept in motion as much as possible. Suddenly a bottle was hurled from the vicinity of a drug store at several police who were situated on an opposite corner. The officers immediately drew their revolvers and fired. The mob scattered in every direction. Whether anyone was seriously injured or not it was impossible to ascertain. The inquest over the remains of Police Officer Diegan, who was murdered by the anarchist mob last night, was concluded at 8:40 o'clock this evening. Chris Spies and Michael Schwab, two of the prisoners, made statements in their own behalf which damaged rather than helped them. Schwab admitted that he did not believe in a personal God. Fielden made a statement that was unineresting and unimportant.

August Spies made no statement, and the More Explosives Found.

Late in the afternoon the officers burst open the private desk of Parsons at his place of business, and in doing so found that the drawers contained a large quantity of powder, fuse and other explosives. One of the explosives, a brass cartridge, of the kind that is used in heavy blasting, was six inches long and one and a half inches in diameter, and was full of giant powder, with fuse attached ready for lighting. PROCLAMATION BY MAYOR HARRISON.

Mayor Harrison this afternoon, after consulting with his department officers, published the following proclamation:

Whereas, Great excitement exists among the people of this good city, growing out of the people of this good city, growing out of labor troubles, which excitement is intensified by open defiance of the guardian's peace by a body of lawless men, under pretense of aiding laboring men, but who are really endeavoring to destroy all laws.

To prevent injury to innocent persons, I urge all law abiding people to quietly attend to their own affairs and not meet in crowds. THE CHICAGO PRESS. Its Voice Raised in Condemnation of Tuesday's Riot.

CHICAGO, May 5.—The following are some of the comments of the Chicago papers: The Evening Journal says: There can be but one sentiment among all classes in view of the outrage and crime last night. Short, sharp and decisive measures must be directed against the mob wherever tit gathers. The most pressing need is for an adequate force of United States troops who have been taught to shoot and who shoot to kill. This revolt against American law and civilization should be crushed without delay and without pressure.

The Daily News says: Let these men who defiantly boast of their lawlessness, be made to feel the full penalty of a long outraged law. Their crime appears more despicable in view of their own personal cowardice after having involved their dupes in trouble. Let there be no temporizing with their followers should any of them attempt a continuation of last night's lawlessness. Let there be no firing in the air. In such times leniency toward lawlessness is an injury to the law-abidward lawlessness is an injury to the law-abiding.

The Mail says: The ruffians, Parsons and Spies, and the other ruffian, Fielden, should be made to feel the chastisement of an insulted and outraged people. Not one of the leading anarchists, not one of the whelps who has helped to bring down upon us the condition of tarrilym which averywhere precondition of terrorism which everywhere pre-vails in Chicago, should be treated with leniency or consideration. Stamp out the infamous set.

The Inter-Ocean says: The occurrences of last night show how far the agitators of Spies' and Parsons' school are prepared to go. The resort of professional rioters to such methods calls for immediate action on the part of the citizens. The authorities are doing all that the authorities can do, but something more is needed. Strikes and strikers are lost sight of now; there can be no differences between employer and emno differences between employer and em-ploye when it comes to condemnation of such outrages as that of last night. The laboring men must disentangle themselves from the circumstances that have been thrown about them by the anarchists and socialists. They are less than men if they will permit themselves to be used in any way to forward the schemes of the enemies of society and government.

SHOOTING A POLICEMAN. Officer Madden Follows a Supicious Character, and Receives His Death Wound.

CHICAGO, May 5 .- A horrible outcome of the excitement resulting from last night's riots occurred this evening shortly after 6 o'clock. Two officers had been stationed on Desplaines street viaduct near the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul freight yards, to prevent crowds from gathering and idlers from guycrowds from gathering and idlers from guying men at work in the place of the striking freight handlers. The officers noticed two particularly suspicious looking individuals slowly cross the viaduct and enter a saloon on Desplanes street near Carroll avenue. Officer Michael Madden, of Desplaines street station who was somewhat closer to the saloon than the other two policemen, was given the signal to keep his eyes on the ugly pair that had attracted attention.
At this moment a revolver was thrust from the saloon door by one of the men and a shot fired into the street in the direction of the ired into the street in the direction of the officers. Policeman Madden stepped briskly to the saloon door and at once grappled with the man who had the revolver, while two other officers hurried to his aid. Madden recied but steadying himself almost instantly brought his own revolver into proximity with his assailant's head and pulled the trigger. Madden and his prisoner, locked in each others arms, recled to the floor, just as officers Daley and Harnett, running, reached the saloon. The companion of Madden's assailant had vanished. Both Madden and his prisoner were taken to the county hospital. Doctors say that the man was somewhat under the influence of liquor and the result of his injury cannot yet be told. A paper found on his person shows that his name is John Loeffelhardt, of Englewood. Officer Madden's wound is mortal. fired. Madden rected but steadying himself

A TALK WITH SPIES. The Laws in His Opinion Are Criminal to the Furtherance of Social Growth.

CHICAGO, May 5.-In an interview tonight August Spies, in a cell at the central station, claims that he attended last evening's meeting reluctantly, and went more to calm the crowd than with any other intention. Said he: "I consider the throwing of that bomb a most irrational proceeding. It should not have been done under the circumstances. I have no objection to the use of dynamite. People have arrived at a certain state where they will do all kinds of violence. We have predicted these things to come. They were a necessity. Yes, I have advocated in my speeches the use of force."
"Are you in favor of killing police with dynamite?" was asked.
"Well, that all depends on circumstances. If you have an enemy you must kill him!

If you have an enemy you must kill I look upon police as representatives of the capitalistic class. As a class the police do something which, in my opinion, is antagonistic to the welfare of society, and therefore, they must be removed."
"You do not care for laws, either, Mr.

"I am opposed to the present laws; I am op-posed to all laws; I consider them inimical to the furtherance of social growth." "Do you consider the work of Tuesday night a victory?"
"No; it was disgusting; a mere unorgan-

"No; it was disgusting; a mere unorganized outbreak."
"Now that you are in this place, do you consider yourself a martyr?"
"Of course, what else would you call it?"
replied Spies with a forced laugh, Then he added: "No I am no martyr—we are all children of circumstances."
Spies was apparently disinclined to talk much further, but before the close suggested that the dynamite found in the Arbeiter Zeiting office was possibly put there by the police.

FIVE LIVES LOST.

Latest reports from Bay View show a much more serious condition of affairs than first reported. A crowd of strikers commenced to form at 8:30 and marched towards the mills. Six military companies marched out of the grounds and stationed in front of the works and as the crowd approached, paying no attention to the orders to halt, a volley of bullets was poured into the crowd. The rioters beat a hasty retreat. Then it was found that five lives had been lost and several persons wounded. A schoolboy was among those killed. Later Details of the Riot. MILWAUKEE, May 5,-10 p. m.-By 6:30 o'clock this morning 400 Poles assembled near the large Polish church in the southern section of the city, each bearing a huge club, an iron bar or some other implement of warfare. The men formed into line and proceeded in the direction of Bay View, raising the cry as they went: "Kill the militia and burn the mills." Major Traumer ordered four companies under his command from inside the rolling mills' enclosure where they had been in camp during the night and stationed them in the best position to check the advancing mob. Major Trauemer ordered them to stop, Major Trauemer ordered them to stop, and gave them fair warning that to advance meant certain death. The crowd ignored the caution and pressed toward the bridge. Major Traumer had orders to keep any crowd from approaching the mills, and to fire upon them as a last resort, if the order could not otherwise be enforced.

SIX COMPANIES EMPTY THEIR GUYS

could not otherwise be enforced.

SIX COMPANIES EMPTY THEIR GUNS.
Accordingly, when no attention had been given to the second warning, he gave orders to fire. As nearly as could be learned six companies emptied their guns with steady aim into the throng. Seeing several of their number fall, wounded or killed, the mob therw themselves flat on the ground, and sought the shelter of the railroad embankment. The level of South Bay street and Lincoln avenue was also sought by frantic men, who tumbled headlong into the water. There was every evidence on the surrounding objects to show that the milita had fired low and with intent to kill—as one of them low and with intent to kill-as one of then low and with intent to kin—as one of them expressed it. The result of the first volley having had such a salutory effect, the militia companies stacked their arms, and portions of the routed mob returned to the scene of the tragedy. A squad of police also put in an appearance and began to assist the wounded. Some of the latter were taken to pair horror salows and dosed with taken to neighboring saloons and dosed with whisky, after which they were conveyed to their homes.
